

The girls in the office were discussing the the much discussed subject of the double electrocution at Sing Sing last night. Agreeing that so long as we had capital punishment, both Grey and Ruth had the electric bath coming to them---though none of us believe in capital punishment. In the course of the discussion someone mentioned the fact that Mrs. Snyder was put to death just before Mr. Grey and wondered why? Whereas Miss Hennacy advanced the wise crack that they must have believed in "Ladies First." You know, to look at Miss Hennacy, one would never suspect the keen humor she expresses now and then. We tried awfully hard to get her to speak at the banquet, but she refused and we have to be content with a real wise crack now and then throughout the year. You know there's an old saying and a true one that "Still water runs deep".

The cards were taken out of the rack this afternoon to be written up for next week and one of the newer girls came through the hall and seeing them out asked Lila, the matron, how come they were all taken out. Lila, with an inspiration of mischief replied "Oh, they take them out every Friday" Oh, they do," asked the girl, "what about Saturday?" "They take them out every Friday" Lila continued, "To go thru the wash on Saturday!"
